The Air Cargo Security Summit is a ground-breaking event that will outline many of the issues and challenges surrounding air cargo security, including the importance and ramifications of a congressional law requiring the screening of all air cargo placed on passenger jets by August 1, 2010.

For more information about this new congressional mandate, click here.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

Presentations by senior Transportation Security Administration officials and Brandon Fried of the Airforwarders Association about this new mandate and the TSA's Certified Cargo Screening Program

A keynote luncheon address by a senior executive of the Florida Chamber of Commerce

An evening reception, screening equipment demonstration and trade show at Limitless International's Orlando warehouse facility on September 30th (5-7:30 pm)

Workshops by leading private-sector cargo security experts and trade associations (including the Airforwarders Association) focused on the shipment needs of specific industries, including:

-Agriculture

(incl. USDA-APHIS & Customs)

-Biotech, Pharmaceuticals and Cold-Chain Food Products

-High-Technology Products

-Mortuary and special-purpose shipping, and

-Legal, legislative, and technical aspects of the new requirements

The focus of the summit is to highlight ways that businesses like yours who rely on air freight can integrate tracking and security procedures into your current supply chain infrastructure that not only comply with the new screening requirements
