AirCargo 2010: Announces Keynote Speaker

The AirCargo 2010 program is on a roll with Terry Jones signed on as the Keynote Speaker and 62 of exhibit booths already reserved! AirCargo 2010 is THE conference for serious players in the air freight forwarding and expedited delivery industries!

Terry Jones, founder and former CEO of Travelocity.com and CIO of Sabre, Inc, and a prior president of Airlines Product Development division, is a sought after speaker who shares his unique insights on the future of Airlines. Jones' idea created a business with 33 million members and one of the first profitable dot coms. He will bring knowledge of creating a national brand, thriving in rapidly changing markets and using technology for competitive advantage. Terry Jones will challenge the audience to think outside the box and envision the future.

AirCargo 2010 is the seventh annual conference co-hosted by the Air and Expedited Motor Carriers Association, Airforwarders Association, and the Express Delivery & Logistics Association. With a growth of over 50% in 10 years, 2010 will bring the largest attendance and expo in the event's history.

This year's conference promises to attract more than 800 attendees, over 100 exhibitors and many new business opportunities for you to explore. And don't forget there's a great golf tournament and a industry women's networking event! In the effort of the Air & Expedited Motor Carriers Association, the Airforwarders Association, and the Express Delivery & Logistics Association, this conference is the pinnacle of the business year.

We look forward to welcoming you to Orlando and AirCargo 2010!
